The Oregon Cultural Trust

Christine Darcy, Executive Director

Christine D'Arcy was named Executive Director of the Oregon Arts Commission in 1994. As Executive Director, she conceived of and initiated the Arts Commission's nationally recognized Arts Build Communities program. From 1998 through 2001, she led a team of statewide partners on the development of the Oregon Cultural Trust, managing the work of two Cultural Task Forces, one appointed by the Governor, the second by the Governor and Legislature.

Since September 2003, she has been the Executive Director of the Oregon Cultural Trust whose operations merged with the Arts Commission. Under her leadership, the Trust has raised over $20 million to support Oregon's arts, heritage and humanities.

Prior to her work in Oregon, D'Arcy was the Executive Director and Visual Arts Director of the Alaska State Council on the Arts. A Native New Yorker, she previously worked for the World Crafts Council, a UNESCO-affiliate in its New York City headquarters, managing research and information services.

She received a BA in Art History from Skidmore College and attended the Columbia University Graduate School of Architecture and Planning, specializing in historic preservation.

D'Arcy serves on the board and executive committee of the Western States Arts Federation.
