Oregon's Green Economy

Tim McCabe, Director, Business Oregon
(Oregon Business Development Department)

Tim McCabe served as Governor Ted Kulongoski's Senior Economic Development Policy Advisor from August 2006 until May 2008, when he was appointed Director of the Oregon Economic & Community Development Department

(which in 2009 became Business Oregon – the Oregon Business Development Department.)

Prior to his appointment to the Governor's staff, Tim spent ten years as the economic development manager for PacifiCorp.

From 2002 to 2006, Tim worked directly with the State of Oregon Economic & Community Development Department on a myriad of economic development projects that helped to create thousands of jobs.

In 2003, Tim designed and created OregonProspector.com, the first statewide GIS industrial lands database in the United States. Since then his design has been emulated by over 30 states and provinces throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Tim is past president of the Oregon Economic Development Association and in September 2006 he was honored as Economic Development Leader of the Year. Tim is a graduate of the University of Oregon with a bachelor's degree in Political Science.
